New General Education Option-- Literature Matters: The Literature of Protest!

Fall 2018: ENG 327--Literature Matters: The Literature of Protest

This course will examine representations of protests in fiction especially during the latter-half of the twentieth century and the twenty-first century, from Civil Rights marches and anti-Vietnam demonstrations in the 1960s to the 1999 WTO protests in Seattle. Throughout the course, we will explore the statement made by Richard Wright that “all literature is protest” by discussing the relationship of literature and protest. Readings include Sunil Yapa’s Your Heart is a Muscle the Size of a Fist, Dana Spiotta’s Eat the Document, Hari Kunzru’s My Revolution, and John Lewis’s March. MWF 9:30-10:20.

ENG 327: Literature Matters is a redesign of a General Education course based on how literary works engage overriding themes and confront social, political, or psychological issues that are not easily comprehended and require a broad understanding of the world and the ability to make connections among different disciplines. The course fulfills 3 hours of the Humanities distribution of the Gen Ed program, and each semester will offer new themes. No prerequisites and all majors welcome!
